

Your preferred platform for production material exchange and dailies distribution

WCPMedia Services offers a secure cloud-based platform and a robust digital asset management that support production and post in storing and organizing raw camera files, DNX or ProRes for editorial, audio files, VFX plate photos and videos, low res distribution media during the whole production life cycle.

Productions benefit from the secure WCP Screening Room to publish, share and stream dailies, rough cuts, trailers and promotional videos.

The WCP Platform also empowers the exchange of production material with producers, editors, VFX team, mix and finishing facilities around the world without boundaries.

Anytime and anywhere, collaborate with your production partners.

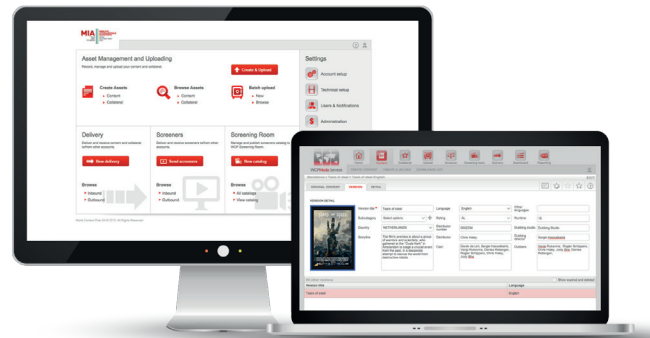

Written and directed by Academy Award-winner Paolo Sorrentino (The Great Beauty) and featuring Jude Law and Diane Keaton, the TV series The Young Pope, a joint production by Sky, HBO and Canal Plus, produced by Wildside, is using WCPMedia solutions to share media during production and post, and to deliver trailers to target buyers.

We empower our customers to directly manage and deliver content to media companies worldwide

WCPMedia Services delivers a cloud-based platform, providing the same professional tools the major studios use to manage and distribute their content, integrated in an easy-to-use application.

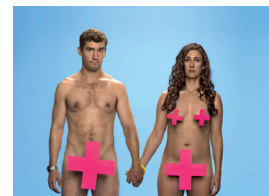

Access WCPMedia Services and you can directly control professional asset management, transcoding, and high-speed digital-delivery of your valuable media content.

With the secure WCP Screening Room you can share, market and showcase your screeners on any device and track your client's engagement

Online - Anywhere - Anytime

Electus has selected WCP to take full control of the distribution of their own valuable TV Series by storing, managing and delivering hundreds of episodes to international broadcasters and facilities.

Producers and distributors are using WCPMedia Services' to distribute broadcast-ready content. Broadcasters worldwide are accepting content directly through the WCP Web App.

Our technical partners:

